

HONEY AND ROYAL JELLY

Hand harvested by the Semai indigenous group of Kampong Bantal, Pahang

Nature's gift of raw honey and royal jelly are brought to you from deep in the rainforest of Taman Negara.

Honey harvesting from the majestically grown tualang tree is carried out by the indigenous group of Semai Orang Asli of Kampong Bantal along the Ulu Tembeling River. Trained from childhood, these men agilely climb the tualang trees standing strikingly at an average 50 metres or about 150 storey high. Each batch of the raw honey generated and royal jelly secreted vary beautifully thanks to the rich flora biodiversity of the rainforest.

Each pure produce weigh 1.5kg including the glass bottle. The foam on the neck of the bottle is naturally occurring. Please store the royal jelly in the refrigerator and the raw honey in a cool dry place to avoid natural crystallization. Please take note, Royal Jelly is not suitable for children below 3 years. People who are sensitive to Asthma or allergies might seek medical advice before use.

After a 4 hour hike through the jungle, a river crossing and a few hours in a lorry it arrived in KL and we got it especially for you.

All proceedings from this sale goes directly to the Semai Orang Asli.
